2. Assign up to 4 students for each one. Once you register the names, you cannot change them. Register by 5:00 pm on October 17.
3. Plan a practice run. Give the students a topic and have them plan, shoot and edit. They can see how they work together, assign positions and plan to use their time well.
4. Read all of the STN contest documents on the website. Be sure to read the new document that explains how you can and cannot prepare for timed STN contests with assigned topics.
5. Get ready for the topics which will be released first on STN social media on October 18. Like/follow STN on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.
6. Get started as soon as the topics come out. Have your students plan a meeting to assign tasks and then get started.
7. Have the students complete a preliminary version and do a test upload to the system. You can replace it with a final version before the deadline.

CONGRATULATIONS! Now you wait for our team of professional judges to review, critique and select winning entries. They will be announced on the STN Website as soon as the judges are done. We don't give a specific date because we respect and work with our judges and their schedules.
